From The Headmaster:

Dr. John Goddard

So many people to congratulate and thank!

- The entire cast and crew of "A Christmas Carol". The three performances last week were excellent. I was genuinely moved by Scrooge; the dancing was exciting; and the whole show was professionally tight. Many congratulations to Miss Doman and her large, successful team.
- Miss Southwell and the Athletics Army, for the Senior School Carnival on Wednesday this week. Bright sunshine, bright smiles, lots of records and great competition: who could ask for more.
- Both Junior and Senior Choirs for their excellent performances in the SASC Choral Festival on Monday of this week. I was impressed by the complexity and polish of the singing. Rouse Hill took the trophy, but all sang very well indeed.
- Hundreds of reports, and that means hundreds of report writers! I have greatly enjoyed reading the reports (K-11 on this occasion) for the informative insights they give. Parents, I hope you will study them closely and use them for follow up discussions with us.
- Junior School parents who came to the Senior School discussion night on Wednesday of this week: your presence was appreciated and the communication and sharing were very valuable.

I look forward to seeing you all at the start of the new term, full of energy and ready for action. May the holiday be beneficial to us all; and may we use at least some of the time in reflecting on and getting to know Jesus. Term time or holiday time, it's a great thing to do!

From the Head of the Junior School: Mr. Rick Harrison

The last week of term has been quite a busy one, with classes involved in all manner of things. All classes were entertained and informed with a performance by the people from "Brainstorm" on Tuesday; a large contingent of students left the College for the day to enjoy a sports Gala Day of netball and soccer, and Kindergarten had a very "fishy" day when they dressed up for their "Under the Sea" day on Wednesday while Year Five became lost in the rainforest on the same day. The Infants classes will also enjoy their "Fun Sports" Day on Friday, the last day of term.

Students who received Citizenship Awards in our last Awards Assembly were:

KB: Jayden Louttit, Makenzie Thomas;

KR: Holly Hall, Zach Taylor;

1B: Lucas Bigeni, Chloe Insch;

1R: Ashleigh Hadid, Ruben Mouton;

2B: Amy Cumming, Ben Patterson;

2R: Lachlan Jones, Cameron Simmons;

Congratulations to all of these students.

Don't forget that if you can help with our One to One programme please let us know.

Proteins (cont'd) (Term 2, Week 9)

Albumin: It is a protein that can be synthesized only in the liver. Therefore in chronic liver disease the serum albumin level is low. Albumin aids in the transport of certain products by binding with them eg. Bilirubin, cortisol and other hormones.

Globulin: Proteins that are produced by lymphocytes and plasma cells are known as immunoglobulins. There are five types of immunoglobulins: IgA, IgD, IgE, IgG and IgM.

Fibrinogen: It is the soluble precursor of the protein fibrin. Fibrin is responsible for the formation of the blood clot.

Fibronectin: This is the protein responsible for clearing certain substances such as cellular debris, fibrin microaggregates and denatured proteins.

See you next term! Have a lovely break!

Number 18

Every issue of the College newsletter will include a brainteaser organised by Mr. Billeh. The answer will be published in the following issue. Have fun and God bless you all

A customer arrives at an apple cider farm with a five gallon container and asks the farmer to put four gallons of his finest cider into it. Unfortunately, the only measure the farmer has is a three gallon jug. Can you think of a way that the farmer can measure out exactly four gallons of cider using just these two containers?

Answer to brainteaser 17:

5 cows=$50
1 pig=$3
94 chickens=$47

LEAPing through 2008: Mr Steven Burroughs

This year so far has been a busy one for LEAP students in Years 5-10 who have had opportunities to participate in areas of learning outside the regular classroom. While Stage 3 students have been meeting on a weekly basis, senior students have been offered a range of incursions and workshops designed to enrich their educational experiences.

A select group of students in Years 5-6 have explored new information technologies available on the Internet and each have created a web log (blog) to showcase their work. Year 5 studied camouflage characteristics of insects before building a habitat to mimic the natural environment of wild animals while Year 6 researched, designed and constructed environmentally-friendly houses. Both year groups then undertook a creative writing unit to publish stories online on their blogs.

LEAP students in the Senior School were treated with a number of workshops, excursions and competitions to extend on learning opportunities. To cater for different areas of interests, students participated in an Artist's Outlet to release the creative sides of students who are artistically talented. Those with gifts in computers and engineering were involved in a Robotics workshop where they programmed Lego robots, and students with a lean towards performing arts were given a place in a movement theatre workshop from the National Institute of Dramatic Arts. The top students from each year group competed in the first Arndell Academic Pentathlon where teams battled it out in various academic areas to determine which year group could claim to be the 'smartest' at Arndell. After a tough contest it was Year 8 who proved to have the edge over the other year groups, at least for now.

The Pentathlon served as a warm-up for 8 students from Year 10 who travelled to Knox Grammar School for the annual Da Vinci Academic Decathlon. The Arndell team competed against 44 other schools from across the state in 10 academic disciplines to match wits with the best of the best. In fast and furious rounds the Arndell team proved themselves finishing 19th in the Creative Producers section, 17th in the Art and Poetry round and in an impressive start to the competition they came 1st in the engineering session. The challenge was to construct a free-standing structure that would keep a marble in motion for the longest period of time possible. It was a hands-down victory as the Arndell team displayed initiative, creativity and a sound knowledge of design to blow the other teams out of the contest.

design to blow the other teams out of the contest.

I would like to congratulate and thank all of the students who were a part of LEAP this semester. I hope your learning experience matched your positive approach and enthusiasm during the programs. Stay tuned for more upcoming LEAP events including the two teams of Arndell LEAP students competing in the national Tournament of Minds next term.

Lost Property: Mr Owen Laffin

A system operates in the College which, when operating smoothly, ensures the prompt return of lost items to students. The task of returning lost items is made virtually impossible when items do not have student names clearly marked upon them. It is the responsibility of students and parents to ensure that every item students bring to school is clearly marked; in the High School with the students name and home room number, and in the Junior School with the student's name. Due to the exponentially increasing number of items appearing in Lost Property any item which is not clearly labelled will be deemed to belong to no one and will be returned to the Uniform Shop automatically for re-sale. Regards.
